Heritage, Memory and Conflict Journal

Aims and Scope

Heritage, Memory and Conflict Journal (HMC) is an international, peer-reviewed, diamond open access Journal that critically analyses the tangible and intangible remnants, traces and spaces of the past in the present, as well as the remaking of pasts into heritage and memory, including processes of appropriations and restitutions, significations and musealization and mediatisation. This interdisciplinary journal addresses the dynamics of memory and forgetting, as well as the politics of trauma, mourning and reconciliation, identity, nationalism and ethnicity, heritage preservation and restoration, material culture, conservation and management, conflict archaeology, dark tourism, diaspora and postcolonial memory, terrorscapes, migration, borders, and the mediated re-enactments of conflicted pasts.
HMC covers the fields of memory studies, cultural studies, museum studies, arts and media and performative studies, postcolonial studies, ethnology, Holocaust and genocide studies, conflict and identity studies, archaeology, material culture and landscapes, conservation and restoration, cultural, public and oral history, critical and digital heritage studies. By crossing academic, artistic and professional boundaries, the journal aims to offer an interdisciplinary space for the rich scholarship in these fields, and to contribute to a better understanding of the extent to which memory sites and discourses operate as vehicles at local, national and transnational levels.

Publication Ethics

Amsterdam University Press and the editors of the Heritage, Memory and Conflict Journal endorse the COPE (Committee on Publication Ethics) guidelines and will pursue cases of suspected research and publication misconduct (e.g. falsification, unethical experimentation, plagiarism, inappropriate image manipulation, redundant publication). By submitting an article for review to this journal, the editors and the publisher will understand the author agrees to adhere to the principles and practices as set out in AUP's Ethics and Malpractice statement. For further information about the COPE principles on publication ethics, please see http://www.publicationethics.org.

Editorial Procedure

This journal uses a double-blind peer review process, which means that both reviewer and author's names are concealed throughout the review process. To facilitate this, authors need to ensure that their manuscripts are prepared in a way that does not reveal their identity. The editorial board decides whether to accept, conditionally accept or reject the manuscript. If the article is conditionally accepted, it will be returned to the author for revision, upon which the editors take the final decision to accept or reject the article for publication. Authors will need to sign a Consent to Publish Agreement prior to publication.

The editors will endeavour to review your article as quickly as possible, but they are reliant on the availability of suitable referees. To expedite the review process it is important to follow the directions given in this document and address any recommendations given in the review reports in a separate document when you submit your revised manuscript to the managing editor.

Copyright Creative Commons Attribution License (CC BY 4.0)

This journal provides immediate open access to its content on the principle that making research freely available to the public supports a greater global exchange of knowledge. This is a Diamond Open Access journal: it provides immediate open access to its content on the principle that making research freely available to the public supports a greater global exchange of knowledge. Authors do not have to provide open access charges to publish in this journal. The journal is financially supported by the Centre for Global Heritage and Development (Leiden University, Delft University of Technology and Erasmus University Rotterdam) and CLUE+ (VU Amsterdam).

Authors keep the copyright to their articles but are required to sign a Consent-to-Publish form based on the CC-BY 4.0 license. You can download the form from the AUP website here.

It is the author's responsibility to seek permission for the use of any copy-righted materials from the rights-holders and pay for any fees required. In case of doubt whether permission is needed, please contact the publisher (details below).

Voluntary article processing charge

For publication in Open Access for this journal, no contribution by the author is obligatory. So far, the journal has been able to support all publications in Open Access thanks to the support of our sponsors.. Yet the editorial board strongly advises researchers in funded projects to make a voluntary contribution to the journal. As an indication, a research paper costs € 1000,- to publish, whereas a project description, interview or book review costs €500,-. Please contact Amsterdam University Press via journals@aup for exact instructions to the voluntary Open Access contribution.

Author Guidelines

Due to the double-blind peer review system, you have to submit your manuscript (apart from the letter to the editor and supplementary material) as two separate files (for further details, see under Submission Guidelines):

(i) Cover part (with personal information)

Authors and Affiliations: Provide the complete names of all authors. Where the family name may be ambiguous (e.g., a double name), please indicate this clearly. Present the authors' institutional affiliation (e.g. university, institute), city, state/province (if applicable), and country below the names. Indicate all affiliations with a lower-case superscript letter immediately after the author's name and in front of the appropriate address. Clearly indicate who will handle correspondence at all stages of refereeing and publication, also post-publication. It is the corresponding author's responsibility to ensure that the author list, and the individual contributions to the study are accurate and complete. Contact details must be kept up to date by the corresponding author.

(ii) Main part (anonymised)

Title: The title should be in a sentence case (only scientific, geographic or person names should be with a first capital letter, i.e. Nobel Prize, Stockholm, etc.), and should include an accurate, clear and concise description of the reported work, avoiding abbreviations.

Abstract: A concise and factual abstract is required. The abstract should state briefly the purpose of the research, the principal results and major conclusions. An abstract is often presented separately from the article, so it must be able to stand alone. For this reason, References should be avoided, but if essential, then cite the author(s) and year(s). Also, non-standard or uncommon abbreviations should be avoided, but if essential they must be defined at their first mention in the abstract itself.

Keywords: Please have your keywords ready for input into the submission module.

Body Text: The text should be in single-column format. Keep the layout of the text as simple as possible. Most formatting codes will be removed and replaced on processing the article. In particular, do not use the word processor's options to hyphenate words. Single-space all material (text, quotations, figure legends, tables, references, etc.). Use a 12-point font (preferably Times New Roman). Do use italics for emphasis. Underlining of any text is not acceptable. Short quotations should be embedded in the text and enclosed in double quotation marks ("). Long quotations should be on a separate line. Single quotation marks are to be used only for a quotation that occurs within another quotation. To avoid unnecessary errors you are strongly advised to use the "spell-check" and "grammar-check" functions of your word processor.

Footnotes: Footnotes should be used sparingly. Number them consecutively throughout the article, using superscript Arabic numbers. Place footnotes to tables below the table body and indicate them with superscript lowercase letters. Do not include footnotes in the Reference list. Table footnotes: Place footnotes to tables below the table body and indicate them with superscript lowercase letters.

Math formulae: Present simple formulae in the line of normal text where possible and use the solidus (/) instead of a horizontal line for small fractional terms, e.g., X/Y. Symbols for variables and constants, but not for mathematical abbreviations (log, ln, etc.) should be italicized in the text, equations and illustrations. Number consecutively any equations that have to be displayed separately from the text (if referred to explicitly in the text).

Tables: Each table should be numbered in sequence using Arabic numerals (i.e. Table 1, 2, 3 etc.). Tables should also have a title that summarizes the whole table, maximum 10 words. Detailed legends may then follow, but should be concise. Tables should be embedded within the text, in portrait format (note that tables on a landscape page must be reformatted onto a portrait page or submitted as additional files). These will be typeset and displayed in the final published form of the article. Such tables should be formatted using the 'Table object' in a word processing program to ensure that columns of data are kept aligned when the file is sent electronically for review. Do not use tabs to format tables or separate text. All columns and rows should be visible, please make sure that borders of each cell display as black lines. Color and shading should not be used; neither should commas be used to indicate decimal values. Please use a full stop to denote decimal values (i.e., 0.007 cm, 0.7 mm).

Preparing your manuscript

Articles should be submitted to our editorial platform Manuscript Manager: manuscriptmanager.net/hmc.

Research papers should not be longer than 6000 words (including references). For illustrations please subtract 400 words per page (e.g. half page illustration, minus 200 words) The journal accepts articles written in British English only. Please upload your article as a Microsoft Word file, including a list of works cited at the end of the article.

For references and general principles of style, the journal uses the author-date system following the Chicago Manual of Style, 17th edition. A quick guide to the main citation forms and a Q&A can be found on the CMS website. https://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide/citation-guide-2.html

The journal uses British English and in the case of a conflict between the Chicago Style and British English, the latter will prevail.

➢ You should submit an abstract of not more than 150 words and 5-8 keywords that accurately describe the subject of your article. A list of citations/bibliography should be included to allow cross-referencing by CrossRef.

➢ Any section headers should be marked clearly as a header. Do not number section and do not use more than one sub-heading.

Detailed instructions on article structure, spelling, punctuation, images, etc. can be found in the AUP Instructions for Authors. Please consult this document before submitting your article

Illustrations

Figures and illustrations are accepted in the following image file formats:

- EPS (preferred format for diagrams)

- TIFF (at least 300dpi resolution, with LZW compression)

- PNG (preferred format for photos or images)

- JPEG (preferred format for photos or images)

- GIF

- BMP

- SVG

Vector files in any of the following formats EPS, SVG or PDF are requested for phylogenetic trees and cladograms.

The journal is printed in A4 paper size with the maximum printing area of 167 mm × 242 mm. Whenever possible, individual figures should be prepared as composite figures.

Should you have any problems in providing the figures in one of the above formats, or in reducing the file below 20 MB, please contact the Editorial Office at journals@pensoft.net

Figure legends: All figures should be referenced consecutively in the manuscript; legends should be listed consecutively immediately after the References. For each figure, the following information should be provided: Figure number (in sequence, using Arabic numerals – i.e. Figure 1, 2, 3 etc.); short title of figure (maximum 15 words); detailed legend, up to 300 words.

Illustrations of measurable morphological traits should bear mute scale bars, whose real size is to be given in the figure captions.

Please note that it is the responsibility of the author(s) to obtain permission from the copyright holder to reproduce figures or tables that have previously been published elsewhere.

Example: Fig. 1, Figs 1–3, Fig. 2A–E.

Citations of figures from other publications should always be Lower Case (fig. / figs). When two subsequent figures or parts are cited (for instance figures 1 and 2 or A and B), a comma should be used.

Example: Figs 1, 2 and Fig. 1A, B.

Parts belong to one figure.

Example: Fig. 1A, B and Fig. 2A-E.

On the use of Google Maps
All uses of Google Maps and Google Earth Content must provide attribution to Google, according to Google Maps/Earth Additional Terms of Service (see also Permission Guidelines for Google Maps and Google Earth). The attribution should be visible on each map in the form, for example: "Map data 2019 (C) Google".

Tables: Each table should be numbered in sequence using Arabic numerals (i.e. Table 1, 2, 3 etc.). Tables should also have a title that summarizes the whole table, maximum 15 words. Detailed legends may then follow, but should be concise.

Small tables can be embedded within the text, in portrait format (note that tables on a landscape page must be reformatted onto a portrait page or submitted as additional files). These will be typeset and displayed in the final published form of the article. Such tables should be formatted using the 'Table object' in a word processing program to ensure that columns of data are kept aligned when the file is sent electronically for review. Do not use tabs to format tables or separate text. All columns and rows should be visible, please make sure that borders of each cell display as black lines. Colour and shading should not be used; neither should commas be used to indicate decimal values. Please use a full stop to denote decimal values (i.e., 0.007 cm, 0.7 mm).

Larger datasets can be uploaded separately as Supplementary Files. Tabular data provided as supplementary files can be uploaded as an Excel spreadsheet (.xls), as an OpenOffice spreadsheets (.ods) or comma-separated values file (.csv). As with all uploaded files, please use the standard file extensions.

Supplementary Files

Online publishing allows an author to provide datasets, tables, video files, or other information as supplementary information, greatly increasing the impact of the submission. Uploading of such files is possible in Step 8 of the submission process.

The maximum file size for each Supplementary File is 20 MB.

The Supplementary Files will not be displayed in the printed version of the article but will exist as linkable supplementary downloadable files in the online version.

While submitting a supplementary file the following information should be completed:

- File format (including name and a URL of an appropriate viewer if format is unusual)

- Title of data

- Description of data

All supplementary files should be referenced explicitly by file name within the body of the article, e.g. 'See supplementary file 1: Movie 1" for the original data used to perform this analysis.

Ideally, the supplementary files should not be platform-specific, and should be viewable using free or widely available tools. Suitable file formats are:

For supplementary documentation:

- PDF (Adobe Acrobat)

For animations:

- SWF (Shockwave Flash)

For movies:

- MOV (QuickTime)

- MPG (MPEG)

For datasets:

- XLS (Excel spreadsheet)

- CSV (Comma separated values)

- ODS (OpenOffice spreadsheets)

As for images, file names should be given in the standard file extensions. This is especially important for Macintosh users, since the Mac OS does not enforce the use of standard file extensions. Please also make sure that each additional file is a single table, figure or movie (please do not upload linked worksheets or PDF files larger than one sheet).

Revising Your Article

Authors must submit the revised version of the manuscript using Track Changes/Comments tools of Word so that the Subject Editor can see the corrections and additions.

Authors must address all critiques of the referees in a response letter to the editor and submit it along with the revised manuscript through the online editorial system. In case a response letter is not submitted by the authors, the editor has the right to reject the manuscript without further evaluation. When resubmitting a manuscript that has been previously rejected with resubmission encouraged, authors must include the response letter to the article text file, and the pdf review version, so that it gets to the Subject Editor and the reviewers during the peer review.

When submitting corrections to proofs (during the layout stage), authors must upload the latest proof (in PDF format) containing their revisions as track changes.

A single field can be composed of several elements, which are separated by commas (e.g. the details region, area, town and street for the 'locality' field). Semicolons should not be used elsewhere in a material citation.

- Repetitive data: Authors can indicate repetitive data with indications such as "same data as for holotype", "same data as for preceding", "same locality", "ibid", etc. as long as the same method and wording are used consistently throughout the paper.

- 'Missing' elements: It is not necessary to include information such as "no date" or "no locality data"; just list the elements that are available.

- see more details here

- Quotation marks

  - Avoid quotation marks except for direct quotations, words defined by the author, and words used in unusual contexts.
